

To The Honorable Members of the FCC Board:

I writing you in the sincere hopes that the members of board will see that importance in maintain network neutrality and prevent ISP's from regulating and discriminating against competitive services. As small business owner myself, who's business relies on the internet should ISPs start denying me services or extort exorbitant fees in order to ensure my traffic is passed I would be force to closed my business or move my service outside of the United States.

The reason ISPs such as AT&T and Comcast is against net neutrality is because smaller companies like mine can offer services and products at a fairer price with better customer service! I would prefer the net to be regulated by the Federal Government! Then allowing it to be controlled by a select few big companies who in turn can crush us smaller businesses unless we pay their "tax" to operate, in many ways this is the 1920's all over again with the marfia (being the big ISPs) trying to extort money from honest businessmen like myself.

In closing I wish URGE you to strongly agree and support network neutrality and say no to the BIG ISPs!

Respectfully;

Alexander R. Tambascia
Chief Technology Manager
MECHA Software, LLC
<http://www.mechasoftware.com>